

TIRED OUT!

At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.

For Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, etc., it HAS NO EQUAL, and is the only iron medicine that is not injurious. It enriches the blood, invigorates the system, restores appetite, aids digestion, does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—either from medicine. Dr. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, Ohio, says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action exceeds all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it." Dr. W. N. WATKINS, 1219 Thirty-second Street, Georgetown, D. C., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the tonic of the age. Nothing better. It creates appetite, gives strength and improves digestion." Genuine has above Trade Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

FOR AN EXTRA SESSION.

REASONS WHY ONE SHOULD BE CALLED THIS FALL.

The House to Organize and Elect a Speaker.

Time Wanted for the Appointment of Fifty Odd Committees—Minister to Liberia—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—It is probable that the president will convene the Fifty-sixth congress in extra session about the 1st of October. The reason for this is obvious. The house has to organize and elect a speaker. He in turn has to have a reasonable time in which to make up fifty-odd standing committees. The composition of the committees consisting of thirteen members is eight Democrats to five Republicans, and in the committees having fifteen members nine Democrats and six Republicans.

The proportion is about two Democrats to every Republican. The Democrats will have only 170 men to fill all the places, so that each one will have to serve on at least three committees. It will take a man of even Mr. Carlisle's ability the better part of a month to name the committees, so that practically the work of the new congress will not begin before the 1st of November if congress should be called early in October.

If there should be no extra session the organization of the house and appointing the committees would postpone a practical beginning of work until about the middle of January, 1888. In other words, an extra session is absolutely necessary to get the Fifty-sixth congress into actual working order by the 1st of December. Any measure looking to a reduction of taxation would be debated in the house for weeks, and how long in the senate no one can tell. If therefore there is ever to be a cutting down of the surplus, the president has got to call congress several months earlier than the regular meeting time, to give the month men in both houses an opportunity to speak to their constituents for the ensuing congressional election, which will follow the adjournment of the long session. According to this calculation a reduction of taxation could not well begin before the 1st of July, 1888.

Those who think it should go into effect the 1st of next July agree that the extra session ought to be called not later than the 1st of April, when congress would devote itself exclusively to the reduction of taxation. The speaker could speedily appoint the few necessary committees, including the ways and means, to enable the house to go on with work which specially demands their attention. Otherwise the meeting in October will be counted as simply extending the long session, and no particular attention would be paid to the surplus question pending the usual political developments of a presidential campaign.

Circuit Court Jurisdiction.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The bill which became a law at the close of the session of congress, to amend the act of 1875 to determine the jurisdiction of the circuit courts of the United States and to regulate the removal of causes from state courts, is another of the important acts, the scope of which is not yet fully understood.

Senator Wilson, of Iowa, who had charge of the bill in the senate, says that it is of the greatest importance, but the recent act has not attracted the slightest attention. It limits, to begin with, the class of cases which may be appealed to the United States supreme court or which may be tried in the circuit court. In the first place, the old law allowed a suit to be brought in the United States court between citizens of different states for amounts exceeding $500. That is put up to $2,000. In the next place, the old law allowed a plaintiff to sue a defendant, a citizen of another state, wherever he could catch him, all over the United States.

The change in the law is that he can only sue him, they being citizens of different states, either in the defendant's state, or, if the defendant happens to be in the district of the defendant's home, then in the plaintiff's district. So, instead of the sixty or seventy districts which by the old law the plaintiff could sue him in, there are only two left. Suppose the defendant goes to the plaintiff's home and is found there, a man doing business there, the plaintiff can sue him in the state court and the defendant can take him to the United States court.

The other important additions are that every receiver or manager of any property, appointed by any court of the United States, may be sued in respect of any act or transaction of his in carrying on the business connected with such property, without the previous leave of the court in which such receiver or manager was appointed, but such suit shall be subject to the general equity jurisdiction of the court in which such receiver or manager was appointed, so far as the same shall be necessary to the ends of justice; that all national banking associations established under the laws of the United States shall, for the purposes of all actions by or against them, real, personal or mixed, and all suits in equity, be deemed citizens of the states in which they are respectively located, and in such cases the circuit and district courts shall not have jurisdiction other than such as they would have in cases between individual citizens of the same state.

The bill, as amended, and sent back to the house, also provided for an increase in the pay of United States district judges, but the house, it was found, would not consent to any such amendment, and so at the last moment the senate recalled the bill, reconsidered this amendment, and it was finally passed, short of this objectionable feature.

Minister to Liberia.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—It is authoritatively stated that C. H. J. Taylor, of Kansas City, Mo., will receive the appointment as minister to Liberia. Mr. Taylor is the present assistant city attorney of Kansas City, but resides just across the border line in the state of Kansas. He is a young colored man about thirty-two years of age. He is endorsed by both the Missouri senators and the majority of the other senators from the south as well as a number of prominent Democrats. It is a question now whether Senator Ingalls, who objected to Recorder Matthews' confirmation, on the ground that no colored man ought to be a Democrat, will vote for the confirmation of Mr. Taylor, who

Interstate Commerce.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—There is still a great deal of uncertainty about the personnel of the interstate commerce commission. The latest gossip is that Congressman Mills, of Texas, will receive one of the appointments. Mr. Reagan, it is said, has asked the president to appoint Mr. Mills, but Mr. Cleveland refuses to say what his intentions in the premises are. Judge MacArthur, of the district supreme court, who resigned a few days ago, is also prominently mentioned in this connection, and it is even asserted that his resignation, which he has long contemplated, was materially hastened by reason of that fact.

Mr. Connerly Has Not Declined.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Mr. T. B. Connerly, recently appointed secretary of the legation at the City of Mexico, has not declined the appointment, as reported. He is in the city for the purpose of seeing the president and Secretary Bayard before his departure for his post of duty.

G. A. R. AND W. R. C.

AKRON, O., March 12.—The trouble which has been brewing for some time between the heads of the Ohio Department G. A. R. and the Ohio Department of the Woman's Relief Corps is made public through the court of inquiry now convened in this city, under appointment of the National president to investigate the charges against Mrs. Sarah M. E. Battels, president of the Ohio W. R. C.

The court is composed of prominent ladies of the relief corps from Cincinnati—Mrs. L. A. Morrison—Columbus, Toledo, Steubenville and Canton. The trouble began at the time of the National encampment, last summer, when Mrs. Battels, instead of going with Department Commander Conger and his party, got a train of her own, and in her orders spoke disparagingly of the G. A. R. route and train.

It is charged that Mrs. Battels, while at San Francisco, drew in the flag at her headquarters when the Ohio G. A. R. passed in the procession, and that since coming home she has since refused to make reports to the G. A. R. department headquarters, refusing to acknowledge that the Relief Corps is subordinate to the Grand Army. Other specifications are made, which, if sustained, will result in her removal. The matter has created great commotion in the two orders all over the state, and a big explosion is looked for.

FUNERAL OF NEEBE'S WIFE.

Socialist Orations and a Great Demonstration, but No Religion—Neebe to Attend.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Oscar Neebe, the anarchist, has selected Paul Grottkan and George Schilling to deliver the orations at his wife's funeral services in Miller's hall, Sunday. Grottkan was Spies' predecessor as editor of the Arbeiter Zeitung, and was a prominent figure in the riots at Milwaukee last spring. Schilling is a noted local Socialist, labor agitator and ward politician. Nothing of a religious character will enter into the ceremonies. It has been decided that the procession will only accompany the corpse to the city limits. Chief of Police Ebersold says no special police arrangements have been made yet regarding the proposed demonstration. He understands that "it is not to be a red flag affair."

The Central Labor union members say they will carry the regulation banners of the various societies composing the organization. Should they do so, there will be no absence of red flags, for the societies and their 12,000 members are almost without exception radically Socialist, and their bunting is of the most vivid crimson. Each society is providing itself with a band of music for the occasion. Sheriff Mattson to-day decided that Neebe should, unmanacled, be allowed to accompany his wife's corpse to the cemetery, guarded by a single deputy.

A FAMILY FEUD

SALEM, Ill., March 12.—An old feud between the Hanks, Combs and Roberts families, of Omega township, culminated last night at a church gathering in a general cutting and shooting affray. Austin Hanks slipped up behind Charles Roberts, who was escorting two young ladies into the church, and struck him on the head with a barrow tooth, cutting a frightful gash and causing profuse bleeding.

Before Roberts could release himself from the ladies a pistol shot was fired by some unknown party, believed to be one of the Combs boys. The ball cut through one of Roberts' fingers and entered the palm of his hand. At this juncture Roberts drew his revolver and began firing, the second shot fired taking effect in Austin Hanks' abdomen, and when his followers saw their leader fall they at once ceased hostilities. Roberts was immediately placed under arrest, and his preliminary trial is now in progress. There are so many witnesses that the trial will probably last all the night. Hanks lies between life and death. The parties are all prominent citizens.

Tarred and Feathered.

MANASSAS, Va., March 12.—An aged negro named Fields and her son and daughter, aged twenty-one and twenty-nine respectively, were awakened before daylight Wednesday morning by three masked men, who broke down the door of their house. The negroes were seized, blindfolded, stripped and bound, and were then tarred and feathered and ordered to leave the country within ten days. It is charged that the negroes were guilty of petty thieving. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of three young men.

Infernal Machine Man Arrested.

NEW YORK, March 12.—John Murphy, supposed to have been concerned in the attempt to burn the Pennsylvania railroad depot in Jersey City and the ferry boat Chicago, last Friday, by means of an infernal machine, was arrested last night.

Temperance People Up in Arms.

GALESBURG, Mich., March 12.—The temperance people are "up in arms" here because the city council refuses to submit the question of licensing saloons the coming year, to a vote of the people.

BROOKLYN IN MOURNING.

AFAREWELL TO THE REMAINS OF THE LATE HENRY WARD BEECHER.

Plymouth Church Crowded to Its Utmost Capacity of Attendance on the Funeral Ceremonies—The Floral Decorations.

Draping of Public Buildings.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 11.—A more propitious day could not have been than that which dawned upon Brooklyn to-day. The morning broke with a clear sky and a bright sun. It was to be a general holiday in Brooklyn. She was to formally bury the remains of her greatest citizen, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

The remains of the great preacher of Plymouth church lay in state throughout the night before the pulpit he had occupied so long, and from which his well known eloquence and words of wisdom had poured to the multitudes that have assembled in the famous church. The silent tread of the guard of honor and the tramping of the patrol on the side were the only sounds that had disturbed the death-like silence about the church.

Soon after daybreak, however, the people of Brooklyn were busy with the decoration of their houses and places of business. Flags were placed at half-mast on all of the public buildings and on nearly all the business houses throughout the city. At the request of Mayor Whitney, the principal business places were closed from 10:30 a. m. until after the close of the services at Plymouth church. Long before the hour appointed for the opening of the doors of the church, a large crowd had gathered about the Orange street entrance. None were admitted but those holding tickets.

At precisely 9:30 o'clock the doors were thrown open and two stalwart policemen stationed at either side. In little more than half an hour all seats were taken, except those reserved for the clergy and invited guests. The decorations about the pulpit had been largely added to until it was literally covered with flowers, and presented the appearance of a gigantic flower bed. Not an inch of crepe could be seen in any part of the church.

The first eight pews to the right of the pulpit, were occupied by forty clergymen of this city and New York, all fervent admirers of the dead pastor. Shortly after 10 o'clock Rev. Dr. McGlynn, of New York, was ushered to a seat directly behind the Protestant clergymen, and almost at the same moment President Olcott, of the Brooklyn board of aldermen, came in, escorted by Lieutenant Governor Jones, Speaker Husted, and the members of the legislative committee. Henry George soon followed and was given a seat next to Lieutenant Governor Jones. United States Senator William M. Everts was then seated immediately behind Mr. George.

When all of the seats which had been reserved for invited guests had been filled Col. Fiekner, of the Thirtieth regiment, and staff were seated in the middle aisle. To the left of the pulpit three pews had been reserved for the family. These were occupied by the two brothers of the deceased, Rev. Edward and Charles, and a number of more distant relatives. Mrs. Beecher was not present. Just as the services were about to begin a shaft of sunlight falling on a pillow of flowers on the pulpit bearing the words, "The Friend and Champion of the Slave," made a beautiful picture. Promptly at 10:30 Dr. Hall, vested with surplice and stole, slowly ascended to the platform, accompanied by Dr. Halliday, and the two took their places at the pulpit.

Dr. Hall, once began with the opening sentences of the Episcopal burial service. With faltering voice he repeated the ever beautiful words, "I am the resurrection and life." When these were finished the choir, nearly hidden behind a bank of calla lilies, sang the burial chant, "Lord, let me know mine end." Then Dr. Hall, who had turned from the people to hide his tears during the singing of the chant, read the lesson, taken from the 15th chapter, 1st cor.

The choir followed by the anthem "Blessed are the departed who die in the Lord." This they rendered in a beautiful manner, the quartette being supplemented by a large chorus. Throughout the church people were visibly affected, and there were few dry eyes in the vast audience. When the anthem was concluded, Dr. Hall stepped forward to the reading desk and read his address from manuscript. He several times interrupted himself by his emotion, and the tears of the congregation fell fast as the preacher spoke lovingly and trustfully of their departed pastor.

EULOGIZING EADS.

The New Orleans Press on the Dead Engineer.

NEW ORLEANS, March 12.—The Times Democrat, commenting on the death of Capt. James B. Eads, says: "The loss at any time of such a man would be calamity to mankind, but at this particular time, in the full ripeness of his fame as a great engineer and scientist, when the crowning glory of his long and useful life, that giant work which his genius had conceived, and which it was his dearest wish to live long enough to carry forward to triumphal success, needed his master mind, his guiding hand, his death is indeed deplorable."

Regarding the jetties and benefits resulting therefrom to the Mississippi valley, it says: "This one engineering enterprise of his has added $1,800,000,000 to the wealth of farmers and manufacturers of this vast region, which he opened to the largest steamers of the world."

James B. Eads was born in Lawrenceburg, Ind., in 1820. At an early age he developed a taste for mechanics. At thirteen he went to St. Louis and supported his mother's family by selling apples on the street. He afterward became a civil engineer. He received the contract for building the first seven vessels of the Mississippi gunboat flotilla. He also built the great St. Louis bridge, and has been engaged in a number of prominent engineering projects, the most noticeable of which are the jetties at the mouth of the Mississippi. He leaves a wife and five daughters.

Blown to Pieces in a Sawmill.

ROLAND, N. Y., March 12.—The remains of Roland Norton, son of J. W. Norton, of this city, were brought here this morning for burial. He was killed at Ithaca, Mich., last Tuesday, by the explosion of a sawmill boiler, and was literally blown to pieces.

LOVED AND DIED TOGETHER.

Two Missionaries From India Gathered Home After a Fruitful Harvest.

MONSON, Mass., March 12.—This village has been the scene of a sad and unusual occurrence—the funeral of a husband and wife. They were foreign missionaries of the American board, who came from India for a vacation a few months since. They were in the prime of life and both died suddenly. Rev. William T. Howland was born in Ceylon in 1815, and was the oldest son of Rev. W. W. Howland, who is still a missionary there. He came to this country when a lad, fitted for college at Monson academy, graduated at Andover in 1870 and at Andover Theological seminary in 1873. He married Mary L. Carpenter, of this town, that same year, and they sailed together for India, being assigned to the Madras mission. She had graduated at the academy and at Mount Holyoke seminary in 1870, being the same age as her husband.

For nearly fourteen years they labored together building churches and gathering in converts, and returned here last summer for a season of rest, bringing with them their three children. At the opening of winter they moved to Auburn lake, and there Mrs. Howland caught a cold while curing for a sick child in a poorly heated room, and died from pneumonia on Saturday evening. Her husband, returning from Montreal, Thursday, was stricken with a fever, which he is supposed to have brought with him, on the following day, and lived but forty-two hours longer than his wife. Two of the children are now very sick with the fever. The Congregational church was filled with mourning friends at the funeral, and very impressive services were conducted by Rev. E. H. Byington.

A CRAFTY SHERIFF.

He Evades a Writ and Carries the Officers After Him Into His Own State.

ASHVILLE, N. C., March 12.—A fugitive from Tennessee, one Charles Goodlake by name, was not long since arrested on the affidavit and identification of Sheriff Connor, of Chattanooga. Connor boarded a train with his prisoner to take him to his own state for trial. Before reaching Marshall the sheriff heard that a writ of habeas corpus had been issued for him; so leaving his prisoner in the custody of his deputies, he exchanged clothing with the fireman on the engine and took the latter's place in the cab.

At Marshall Sheriff Chandler, of Madison, entered the train and demanded the prisoner. This officer, being inexperienced, supposed the writ must be served on the prisoner. Quite a scene followed this action. Half a dozen Tennessee deputies were guarding the prisoner. A half dozen came with Sheriff Chandler, and in a moment that number of pistols were glistering in the light. The counsel for the prisoner, who were also aboard the train, reminded the fresh sheriff that the writ must be served on the person to whom it was addressed—J. E. Connor, sheriff of Hamilton county, Tennessee. Sheriff Chandler failed to find Connor, and the train moved off leaving all these officers. About the time the train reached the next station Chandler heard where Connor was, but before he was enabled to reach the cab the crafty Tennesseean had been carried into his own state.

THIRSTY SOULS OF MOUNT G. LEAD.

New Device of Dram Drinkers to Evade a Prohibition Law.

CLEVELAND, O., March 12.—Ohio drinkers have originated a new device for getting around the prohibition clause of the much debated Dow law. A Mount Gilead special says: Since the council passed the local option ordinance here last month there has been organized what is known as the Olentangy club, named after the river here. The object of the club is to furnish liquor to all members at reduced rates. The club has been regularly incorporated under the laws of Ohio, and has now an immense membership. Each one before receiving a key goes through an initiatory ceremony that would make Bacchus himself envious.

The constitution, by-laws, seal, pass word and all have been looked after, and temperance people here are wild with rage. The club here, it is said, can now ignore all ordinances and regulations with impunity, and the members talk of making it a state secret order, with branch clubs in all local option towns. The officers of Mount Gilead are kept busy watching the place and are taking the names of members.

Fatal Quarrel.

OMEGA, Ill., March 12.—In a quarrel between the Robert K. Combs and Hanks families Wednesday night, Charles Roberts was struck on the head with a barrow tooth by Luke Combs and shot in the head. Austin Hanks was dangerously shot by Charles Roberts. Roberts has been arrested. Hanks is still alive, but is not expected to live long.

Oil Excitement in West Virginia.

PAKESBURG, W. Va., March 12.—An oil well near Clifton, a few miles down the river, which had been bored for gas two years ago, and had been abandoned, was found yesterday full of oil of a fine test. The people are much excited, as the outlook is favorable for a large yield. Large tanks are being built.

About Five Thousand Short.

BUFFALO, March 12.—E. H. Abbott, supreme secretary of the Royal Templars of Temperance, is about $5,000 short in his accounts with that organization. From the safe at Montreal, Mr. Abbott has telegraphed inquiring if he can be of any assistance in straightening out the books.

A Dependent Farmer Suicides.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 12.—Elbridge Phillips, aged fifty years, a farmer, residing near Dorset Station, shot himself in the neck at 3 o'clock this morning. Death was almost immediate. Ill-health and despondency led to the suicide. The bullet lodged in the roof of the mouth.

Adams County Pioneer Dead at 107.

WINCHESTER, O., March 12.—William Walker, one of Adams county's old pioneers, died in Franklin township this morning. He was 103 years old.

The failure of Levenson & Co., clothiers of New York, is due to a $200,000 defalcation of Bookkeeper Edward Newman. He is now in Canada. The firm came originally from Louisville.

"Home Mechanics."

William O'Brien, a Maysville type, will leave for Kansas City, Mo., on the noon train to-day, driven away from home from lack of employment. The pewter-plate business works just that way.—Republican.

Does it, indeed? We are so sorry; but then we don't exactly agree, Tommie, with you and Johnnie on that point, and we don't think you will make the people of Maysville believe you, either. If you two weren't known so well, a little more confidence might be placed in what you say. Your cry for the past several days has been that you hired "home mechanics" to set up the matter which went into your paper, and you brag and splutter about your love for the workingmen of Maysville. Aren't you aware that the people are onto your "scheme" and know that all your sycophantic talk is done solely to benefit yourselves?

"Pewter plate business," indeed! The people know if it wasn't for the "pewter plates," they would have to pay just double what they do now for their home paper. Let them figure a little and double all their expenses for a few weeks and they can readily see wherein the "plate business" is a benefit to them. But they are aware of all this, already, and they know you two, Tommie, you and Johnnie, to be just what we have always said you were: conceited "blowers," egotistical ninny, ranting hypocrites, and simpering sycophants.

It's a wonder, indeed, that you would let a "home mechanic" leave Maysville, after all your prating on the question in the last few days. If you weren't known so well, no doubt Mr. O'Brien and his friends would have been surprised at your not throwing your doors open and inviting him to a "case." They know you, though, and they weren't expecting anything of the kind. But then Mr. O'Brien is not the only "home mechanic" you have permitted to leave town in the past year or so. Perhaps you will understand our meaning better after you read the following:

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 10, 1887.
Editor Bulletin—Dear Sir: I see that T. A. D. is harping on giving home men employment. What did he do when he started the late weekly? He sent to Mt. Olivet, Ky., and secured two printers who had no claim whatever on Maysville, and let the Maysville printers walk the streets, and they were compelled to leave Maysville and secure employment elsewhere. Why was this done? Undoubtedly the cause lies in the fact that the men secured worked for less money than the home printers would, and thereby he was benefited, and home printers had to skip. Whose interests was he looking after, the Maysville printers or the Mt. Olivet printers? It seems one of the Mt. Olivet printers left rather suddenly, too.

In the language of a certain well-known individual, "That settles it." And in conclusion, we again advise Tommie and Johnnie to let up, and give their readers a rest. If they weren't such egotists and conceited ninny they would know when they had enough.

The saloon men of Newport are trying to "boycott" the Cincinnati Times-Star on account of its war on the liquor interests.

D. K. Weiss, formerly editor of the Ashland Express, has been appointed postmaster at that place. The office pays $1,500 year, and will be much more pleasant and profitable work than running a newspaper.

The Mason, Gooch and Hoge Company has been incorporated at Frankfort with a capital stock of $500,000, for the purpose of building railroads, bridges, turnpikes, water works and other public or private improvements.

"If one may judge from the tone of the able BULLETIN's able articles contributed by its able outside writer, that paper isn't as much in favor of 'competition' as it used to be. The advent of the Daily Republican doesn't seem to set well on George Rosser's able bows."—Republican.

We copy the above as a specimen of the "able articles" Tommie and Johnnie can get up when they try. When two such brilliant writers turn themselves loose, their readers can always expect something—a little above the average, at least. What an effort it must have required to bring forth such a gem as is set out in that last sentence of the above clipping! How interesting and entertaining such talk must be to their readers! And Tommie and Johnnie are conceited enough to imagine their "competition" is troubling the BULLETIN! Well, "where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise." If Tommie and Johnnie only knew how such "competition" as theirs has increased the BULLETIN's business, they would cease their child's prattle.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR NOTES.

[Communicated.]

The K. of L. has scored another victory over arrogant and oppressive monopoly. The hours of labor of the drivers, conductors and stablemen of the Covington and Cincinnati Street Car Company have been reduced to twelve a day, and the employees of the company who have secured this just demand are now happy. Unfulfilled promises of the company brought on the strike. No men worked, no "scabs" offered their services, no horses were fed, no cars were run during the strike. The directors saw that labor had rights which capital must respect. Full pay was granted for twelve hours' work in place of fourteen as heretofore. The men who had barely time to sleep, will now have a few hours each day to get acquainted with their families. More than twenty per cent. additional men will now be employed to make up for the reduced hours.

Let every working man join the K. of L. at once, regardless of nationality. The sooner we are thoroughly organized the quicker we shall get our rights. The workingman must take the law-making power in his own hands and make laws for his own benefit. The monopolists have had the power in their hands long enough, and the condition of the laboring classes shows in whose favor it has been used. In a few months there will be men elected to fill the various offices of this State. See to it that no one gets your vote who is not pledged to the service of humanity. Don't say "I am a Democrat, or a Republican, and so was my father and grandfather," but say "I am a Knight of Labor, and shall vote for men who will do justice to their fellow beings."

This city rejoices in a landlord who owns a large number of houses, and is remarkable for his urbanity and willingness to oblige every one who is up to the mark when pay-day comes. A few days ago one of his tenants asked a little delay, as the times had been bad. He pleaded that he had always been up to time before, and only wished a little extension now. "Oh, certainly," said the urbane landlord, looking at his watch, "it is now 12 o'clock. I'll call around at 2."

The cigarmakers' union of this city is in a flourishing condition, and the writers' advice to all men engaged in that trade is to join and help improve their own condition. Become a union man and it will be of no little practical assistance to you.

A certain factory in this city is said to be making money "hand over fist," in which case it looks like the proprietors could afford to pay their boys and girls more than 50 or 75 cents a week. Child labor should be abolished, and the quicker, the better.

General good feeling exists between all the employing corporations and firms in this city and their workmen. No conflict between capital and labor is anticipated, and "everything is lovely and the goose hangs high" on the labor question.

Class the wire-pullers and political suckers who are ambitious for offices with those who are debarrred from membership in the order, for, if once admitted, they will soon try to either rule or ruin the assembly.

The citizens' K. of L. municipal ticket at Prestonville, Ky., in the recent election, was a clean sweep. Both the Democrats and Republicans tried molasses to catch K. of L. flies, but their little scheme didn't work.

The K. of L. have a strong organization here. See that it is kept so, by refusing to admit any candidate whom you think is simply joining for effect, or in order to hold a "grip on the ward."

Some of the penurious and small-minded employers of labor here begin to see the hand-writing on the wall, the opinion of a certain capitalist to the contrary notwithstanding.

Our City Council should vote to exempt from taxation for ten years any steam power manufacturing establishment that may locate here.

Some of the most cautious and level-headed of our citizens are at the head of the K. of L. organization in this city.

The K. of L. in this city are increasing in numbers rapidly. Let the good work go on.

Before long every wage-worker in this city will be enrolled in the K. of L.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

TUCKAHOE.

Miss Allie Graybill and Charles Cordry were married on the 10th instant, at the residence of the bride's parents, near here.

Born, March 7th, to the wife of A. Gleason, a son—weight ten and a half pounds.

Born, March 8th, to the wife of Fred Wolfe, a son.

The six-year-old daughter of John Sims died of diphtheria on the 10th instant.

The people of Tuckaheo can't see the use of a Dover weekly paper, as there is a certain fellow who can always give them the news two days before the paper arrives.

"Delays are Dangerous."

If you are pale, emaciated, have a hacking cough, with night sweats, spitting of blood and shortness of breath, you have no time to lose. Do not hesitate too long—till you are past cure; for, taken in its early stages, consumption can be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" as thousands can testify. By druggists.

FRUIT GROWERS INDIGNANT.

They Propose to Dispense With the Rapacious Middlemen.

MARLBOROUGH, N. Y., March 12.—New York City commission dealers notified fruit growers along the Hudson Valley that the resolution passed by the middlemen in reference to not returning peach baskets does not apply to producers in this State. Nevertheless a meeting has been called to be held here on Saturday afternoon to take into consideration an alleged "combine" on the part of the agents against the growers.

It is learned here that if the agents insist upon the horticulturists shipping fruit in non-returnable packages the producers will insist upon the agents paying one-half the freight on the boats and half the cartage in New York. Non-returnable crates means an outlay of thousands of dollars. For instance, right here in the heart of the grape growing section individual shippers will send off the coming summer as high as eighty tons each, and usually only forty pounds of grapes go in a package. Saturday's meeting here will be attended by all the representative farmers. It is said there is an understanding between New York and Delaware fruit men on this matter. Growers in Ulster, Dutchess and Orange counties talk of forming an exchange in New York for the sale of small fruits.

Fishery Troubles.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 12.—The Haddock, C. B. Recorder, published in one of the largest fishing districts in the maritime provinces, says editorially of the fishery troubles that if by the retaliation bill passed by congress trade with the United States should be cut off, the result would be disastrous to the maritime provinces, and argues that United States fishermen ought to be allowed to buy bait in provincial ports, and that fish, when caught, should be on the same footing as any other class of goods. It is not proper to violate a plain commercial right to induce the United States to change its policy from protection to free trade. The Recorder adds: "The principle is wrong. Let the fishing rights be decided, and deal with the policy of free goods afterwards. Why not put an export duty on ice, bait and fishing supplies? There might be some reason in this policy, but the non-interstate policy is only fit for barbarians."

Senator Sherman in the West.

CHICAGO, March 12.—A private letter from Washington says that after the return of the Sherman party from its southern trip, a tour of the west and northwest will be organized, and that the Ohio statesman will speak in the principal cities of Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin and possibly Minnesota. Senator Sherman is exceedingly popular in the west and veteran politicians here, while expressing surprise at the sudden development of the Sherman boom, predict that his reception will surpass that given to the plumed knight in this region in the fall prior to the last presidential election.

A Deadly Affray.

FAYETTE, Miss., March 12.—A deadly affray occurred between Mr. Orr and his three sons, all armed with revolvers, and Lud Churchwell and his two sons, the former being armed with a shotgun and the latter with axes. In the fight Lud Churchwell was killed and one of his sons was mortally wounded. James Orr was killed and his brother, Asa, was badly hurt. As Orr was killed by a pistol shot, it is thought that the wound was inflicted by one of his own party, or their antagonists had no pistols.

Indian Depredations.

NOGALES, Ariz., March 12.—A Star special from Globe, Arizona, says: E. T. Kellner, who has just returned to Globe, reports that four bucks and a boy fired upon Charles Bonquet as he was approaching his house in Font del Basin. He escaped and was fired upon again. The Indians burned his house. They also fired upon Mormon families on the evening of the 8th. During the last three weeks Indians from San Carlos reservation have been stealing from San Pedro valley. The situation is again assuming a serious aspect. An outbreak is feared.

It Pays to Buy Papers.

"It really doesn't require the expenditure of a great deal of money for a man to keep himself posted on the news of the day," remarked a business man who is an omnivorous newspaper reader. "I buy all the daily newspapers—all those printed in English I mean—published in this city, and I find that the total amount of their cost is twenty cents per day. The morning papers cost nine cents and the afternoon papers seven cents. Considering the amount of reading furnished for the money I think it a cheap investment. I also buy all the Sunday papers," he continued, "at an expense every Sabbath of thirty-eight cents. I find that there is more good reading in them, to say nothing of the news of the day, than is contained in three magazines at twenty-five cents a number."—Philadelphia Call.

The Force of Habit.

A tall, lank man, with brown hair and a sombrero, shuffled into the Boston Oyster House yesterday afternoon. As he opened the door the head waiter, or floor walker, leveled his finger at the stranger as a sign for him to follow. The latter did not appear to view the outstretched finger as a friendly omen, for he dodged behind a post, yelling as he did so:

"Hyar, thar! You've got the drop on me this time. Just lower that for a minute and give a fener a fair shake."

An explanation followed, and the man from the west sat down to a dozen of Blue Points without further incident.—Chicago Herald.

He Had No Difficulty.

Jupkins, Sr.—Well, Jack, you look hearty, and I'm glad to see you safe and sound. Those western men are lawless folk, I hear.

Jupkins, Jr. (just from Montana)—I never had any difficulty with them.

"Well, I'm sure I've heard that they shoot a man who refuses to drink with them. Did they never ask you to drink?"

"Um—yes."

"But they spared you on account of your youth?"

"Er—no. I always drank."—Buffalo Courier.

How Reputations Are Made.

Hundreds of antlers of elk are shipped every year from Oregon and Washington territory to England, where they hung up in the halls of the nobility, as evidences of the prowess of the titled slumrod.—Burlington Free Press.

An Electrical Feeder.

Experiments tried with a new electrical device for use in feeding sheets of paper to printing presses prove quite successful. It is automatic, and notice of any trouble is signaled at once by ringing a bell.

THE Street Railway and Transfer Company will extend its track to the cemetery as soon as the weather will permit.

SUPERINTENDENT SCHAEFFER, of the water-works company, was around last evening inspecting and testing the fire plugs.

REV. W. M. PETTIS, of Lafayette, Ind., will conduct services in the Church of the Nativity at the usual hours to-morrow.

CHARLES ROSENBAU, of Columbus, Ind., is in town to-day looking up a situation for the purpose of engaging in the dry goods business.

THE Ripley Bee and Times says that Captain John W. Adkins has been given charge of the ferry at that place by C. P. Huntington, and will go on duty at once.

HARRY D. GRAHAM, agent for the Neck and Neck Company, is in town to-day making arrangements for their appearance at the opera house next Friday and Saturday nights.

JOHN WALSH, of this city, has secured the general agency for a combined door plate and bell, made by the Gong Bell Manufacturing Co., at some town in the East. It is most conveniently gotten up, so that any name can be inserted in the plate.

JOHN M. STROCKRON, real estate agent, has sold for Mrs. James A. Johnson, a house and lot on the north side of Fourth street, between Market and Sutton, for $1,400 cash. T. J. Curley, the purchaser, will improve the building, and make a handsome residence out of it.

At Danville, Ind., William Hammond, a popular young business man, took laughing gas for the purpose of having some teeth extracted. A special from there the day after said he had not been able to talk or to move any part of his body, except to make a slight motion of the head.

The Ripley Cigar Manufacturing Company has been organized at that place with a capital of $5,000, and will begin operations at once. Work will be given to between fifty and seventy-five hands, and home-laborers will be employed. The company has engaged Mr. Chambers, of this city as foreman of the factory.

PRISMATIC colors and scattered rays, common to other spectacles, are by the scientific principles of their construction entirely avoided in the Diamond. Being perfectly free from deleterious substances, they never tire the eye, and can be used with comfort and satisfaction equally by lamp, gaslight or daylight. For sale by Ballenger, jeweler.

About seven hundred piles have been delivered here this week by Bruce & Son of Lewis County, to be used in the construction of the Maysville & Big Sandy Railroad across the Limestone Creek bottom and along Front street. The high water in the river has enabled the contractors to float the piles to the point where they will be used, and the labor and expense of hauling will be avoided.

THE examining trial of Mary Louisa Craig, charged with infanticide, came off yesterday before Judge Coons. County Attorney C. D. Newell prosecuted, and Thos. R. Phister appeared for defendant. At the close of the evidence the warrant was dismissed. A new warrant was issued charging the defendant with concealing the birth of an illegitimate child, and she was remanded to jail in default of $200 bail. The case may be transferred to Mt. Olivet for a hearing.

GEORGE W. SULSER was at Georgetown, Ohio, on Thursday on a business trip. While there he was told that the Ohio and Northwestern Railroad Company had contracted to complete the Columbus and Maysville road to that point, but would not extend it to Ripley. The Ohio and Northwestern runs into the coal fields of that State and wants to monopolize the coal business at Georgetown and in that region. A road to Ripley would bring them in competition with the river coal.

"Yes; I shall break the engagement," she said, folding her arms and looking defiant; "it is really too much trouble to converse with him; he is as deaf as a post, and talks like he had a mouthful of mush. Besides, the way he hawks and spits is disgusting." "Don't break the engagement for that; tell him to take Dr. Sage's Catarrh remedy. It will cure him completely." "Well, I'll tell him. I do hate to break it off, for in all other respects he's quite too charming." Of course it cured his catarrh.

IN noticing the trial of James Moore for killing Robert Story, December 25th, 1885, the Greenup Gazette says: "After the close of Mr. Paynter's speech came James H. Sallee, Commonwealth's Attorney, who closed the arguments in the case. He spoke for about one hour, devoting his attention and remarks to the instructions. His argument was close, logical and well received by the audience. Mr. Sallee closed his speech about 4 o'clock and the case was at once given to the jury, which at once retired to bring in a verdict. The jury failed to bring in a verdict till the next morning, then the verdict was guilty and confinement in the State prison for six years."

THE "Court Street Whist Club" met last evening at the residence of Mrs. R. Albert on Market street. Present: Miss Sophia Albert, Miss Lizzie Moores, Miss Bessie Wadsworth, Miss Lotta Cartmell, Miss Hannah Morton Duke, Mrs. Ed. Watson, Edward Leslie Worthington, Charles Douglas Newell, George Cox Keith, Clarence Lyndon Sallee, John Grundy Wadsworth, Arthur Mathew Campbell. After several hours spent at the interesting game, the club did ample justice to a delicious lunch. The latter part of the evening was enlivened by a performance of the "handkerchief and vase" trick by Mr. Wadsworth. The club passed appropriate resolutions and then adjourned, subject to a call from the chairman, which, we understand, will not be issued until some time next fall.

Election of Officers and Directors.
At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Limestone Building Association last evening, the following officers and directors were chosen for the ensuing year:
President—W. B. Mathews.
Vice President—Dr. T. H. N. Smith.
Secretary—Joseph H. Dolson.
Treasurer—Jas. Threlkeld, of First National Bank.
Solicitor—W. W. Ball.
Janitor—Willie Traxel.
Auditing Committee—John Daley, R. Lee Browning, Hugh Biebowler.
Directors—W. B. Mathews, J. W. Alexander, I. M. Lane, T. M. Pearce, T. H. N. Smith, F. H. Traxel, George T. Hunter, H. L. Newell, J. C. Adamson, Frank Davine, Jos. H. Dodson.

Important Decision Affirmed.
The Court of Appeals has affirmed the decision in the following cases, taken up from this county: Commonwealth of Kentucky against the Maysville and Lexington Turnpike Road Co.; same against the Lewis & Mason T. P. R. Co.; same against Helena T. P. R. Co.; same against Maysville & Mt. Sterling T. P. R. Co., and same against the Maysville & Orangeburg T. P. R. Co. These actions were brought in the County Court of this county the latter part of 1883 or the first of 1884 to recover a large amount of back taxes from the various turnpike companies for a period of several years—running from 1876 to and including 1882. At the April term 1884, Judge Coons rendered a lengthy opinion deciding that the companies must pay the taxes. Afterwards the cases were appealed by the defendants, and the Court of Appeals now affirms the decision of the lower court. The judgement in all the suits amounted to $2,271.49 apportioned as follows: Maysville & Lexington, $519.20; Maysville & Mt. Sterling, $454.30; Maysville & Orangeburg, $339.40; Maysville & Germantown, $405.92; Lewis & Mason, $340.72; Helena, $162.25. The interest and all will now amount to about $2,530, which the county will receive. Ex-County Attorney John L. Whitaker, who prosecuted the suit, will receive a handsome sum as his commission in the cases.

Meeting of Executive Committee.
Judge Emory Whitaker, Chairman, has issued a call for the Democratic Executive Committee of this county to meet at the office of Whitaker & Robertson next Monday, at 11 o'clock. The object of the meeting is to decide upon the time and manner of nominating a candidate for Representative in the next Legislature, and also to decide the manner of selecting delegates to the State convention which will meet in Louisville the 4th of next May.

Stock and Crops.
A good farmer writes: "Don't plow land until it is dry enough to crumble as your plow passes through it."

A. Smith McCann, of Lexington has sold the five-year-old mare Lady Wilkes to Williamson & Co., Ottumwa, Iowa, for $3,500. She is by Rene Wilkes, dam by John Dillard.

Peter S. Anderson & Co. bought Harvey, G. Hart's crop of tobacco near Sideview, said to be by one of the best Louisville tobacco judges, the best crop in Montgomery County, at 5 1/2c. Crop about 15,000 pounds.—Paris Kentuckian.

An experimenter says: "My experience has taught me that a larger crop can be raised from small whole potatoes than from tubers of the same size and weight; also small potatoes will produce more large potatoes than will large tubers."

Personal.
Miss Mattie Oldham has returned from a visit to relatives at Manchester.

Miss Maria Bollinger has returned from a visit to friends in Charleston Bottom. Brother Daley, of the Fleadingsburg Times-Democrat, was in town this morning on business.

Rev. C. H. Williams, who has been conducting a protracted meeting in the M. E. Church for some time past, left this morning for his home at Covington.

Jas. R. Word, of the Robertson County Democrat, and J. T. Newman, came in yesterday from Mt. Olivet on a business trip. In addition to getting out the best paper ever published at that place, Mr. Word is discharging the duties of the office of County Attorney in a most acceptable and efficient manner.

Church Notes.
Rev. D. A. Beardsley will conduct the regular services in the M. E. Church, South, to-morrow.

The Baptists will worship in the court house at the usual hours to-morrow. Preaching by the pastor, Rev. R. B. Garrett.

At the Methodist Episcopal Church last evening a large crowd was present. There was one conversion. Usual services to-morrow.

Rev. A. Baur will preach in the German Protestant Church to-morrow at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and 7 o'clock in the evening.

The pastor, Dr. J. S. Hays, will preach in the First Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock, and in the evening at 7 o'clock.

In the Central Presbyterian Church to-morrow, the pastor, Rev. Russell Cecil, will preach at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.

There will be no preaching in the Christian Church to-morrow, owing to the absence of the pastor, Rev. E. L. Powell, who is engaged in a protracted meeting at Louisville. Sunday school and communion service at the usual hour.

Removal.
Dr. G. M. Williams has removed his dental office to building on Third street, adjoining Dr. Shackelford's office.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight adulterated phosphates. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 Wall St., New York.

TO LADIES

—WHO—

WEAR FINE SHOES:

We have received a line of French Kid Hand-made Button which is superior to any ever sold by us before. The material is strictly first-class and selected with great care. They fit as perfectly as a kid glove. They require no breaking in, but are as comfortable when first worn as an old shoe. To ladies who have tender feet and who have had difficulty in securing a neat-fitting shoe, we can recommend these as being especially desirable.
